

The first step to creating a hub at Narita Airport

Tokyo (Narita) Departures for Sapporo (Shin-Chitose) and Fukuoka Start March 29

- Increases to continue in Narita Airport arrivals/departures; establishment of other hubs to also be considered

Peach Aviation Limited (Peach; Representative Director & CEO: Shinichi Inoue; Head office: Izumisano-shi, Osaka) announced today that starting March 29 it will increase its number of routes departing from Narita Airport. In addition to the Tokyo (Narita)-Osaka (Kansai) route currently under operation, Peach will open new routes from Tokyo (Narita) to Sapporo (Shin-Chitose) and Tokyo (Narita) to Fukuoka.

The Tokyo (Narita)-Sapporo (Shin-Chitose) route will open with one round-trip flight per day, and the Tokyo (Narita)-Fukuoka route will start with two round-trip flights daily as the company plans to continue to further expand its routes. With its expansion in Narita Airport arrivals and departures, Peach hopes to bring the enjoyment of low-cost air travel to more customers in the Tokyo area who have had less occasion to fly Peach.

In addition to establishing the opening of the new routes as a first step in making Narita Airport a Peach hub, Peach will continue to consider other airports besides Kansai, Naha, and Narita airports as new hubs.

With comprehensive adherence to low costs in its business development, its maintenance of high standards of operational quality, and its bid to create new values through innovative initiatives, Peach has been bringing customers low fares in a stable manner, 365 days a year. Peach made its first annual profit only 25 months after its inaugural flight in March 2012, proving that Peach's business model can succeed.

Through its unique business model that is unlike any other airline, Peach will continue to produce steady revenue and contribute to the healthy development of the aviation industry.
