

Introduction of flights between Tokyo (Narita) and Memanbetsu

Launch of first scheduled LCC service for Memanbetsu, totaling 11 domestic routes to/from Narita!

- This is the only direct LCC flight between the capital area and Memanbetsu with daily flights*
- Nine domestic routes now serving Hokkaido

Osaka February 10, 2021 - Peach Aviation Limited (hereafter: Peach, Representative Director & CEO: Takeaki Mori) today (February 10) launched the first LCC service between Tokyo (Narita) and Memanbetsu. One round trip is operated per day*.

Peach flight MM593 departs from Narita Airport (Aircraft No.: JA10VA)

This is the only direct LCC flight connecting the capital area and Memanbetsu. It also marks the first LCC service at Memanbetsu Airport.

Peach's domestic network has expanded to 31 routes in total with this launch, including 11 domestic routes to/from Narita Airport, and nine domestic routes to/from Hokkaido.

CEO Takeaki Mori commented, "Our service between Tokyo (Narita) and Memanbetsu was launched today. Just like Kushiro Airport, this is also the first LCC service to Memanbetsu Airport. The eastern regions of Hokkaido will become more accessible through Peach's efforts. Also, travel options from Narita Airport to eastern Hokkaido are now more varied with links to three airports, namely New Chitose, Kushiro, and Memanbetsu. Peach will continue to expand its domestic network while giving priority to infection countermeasures, as it provides easy travel at low fares to those who need transportation under these circumstances, to fulfill our role as a public transportation provider."

Going forward, Peach is committed to providing stable and easy travel with low fares as an air bridge connecting regions while thoroughly implementing infection countermeasures under the theme "Bridging your Sky".

*Partial suspension from February 16 due to increasing numbers of new coronavirus cases.
