Peach's sixth international route, the Osaka (Kansai) – Kaohsiung route, will connect the Kansai area with Kaohsiung, Taiwan's second largest city. Flight service will begin on January 18, 2014. Peach already operates an Osaka (Kansai) – Taipei (Taoyuan) and Okinawa (Naha) – Taipei (Taoyuan) routes. These routes have been very popular routes since their launch, used not only by Japanese passengers but also many passengers from Taiwan. The new route is being launched in order to respond to this high level of demand.

Peach's Representative Director & CEO Shinichi Inoue commented on the opening of this route, saying "I am very happy that Peach will begin offering service to Taiwan's Kaohsiung. Kaohsiung is the leading city in southern Taiwan, and has very close ties to Japan, even for a Taiwanese city. This new route will make it easy to travel from the Kansai area and the rest of Japan not only to Taipei, but all of Taiwan, and we look forward to an even higher level of exchange between Taiwan and Japan."
